DAN RUMINSKI

Learn the Art of Storytelling

A rare, enjoyable and informative opportunity!

Dan Ruminski, well known Cleveland storyteller and author is taking time off of his busy schedule to offer to the public a chance to learn about the art of storytelling. Dan, who has appeared on radio and television and has been written about in both newspaper and magazine articles has perfected very teachable moments.

How is a story created? What are the components that go into a story? How can a story be used to communicate, influence and convince? Dan will explain the importance of delivery, body language, voice cadence, hand gestures when delivering a story orally. Winning over an audience, keeping audience interest and giving the audience a teachable moment. Create a story which leaves the folks with food for thought.

Storytelling - The Vehicle to Success

Dan Ruminski, The Cleveland Storyteller, well known author and speaker, now wants to share his knowledge to benefit your children and their future careers.

Dan is now offering an opportunity to teach the younger generation about the great vehicle to success - storytelling. The goal is to teach students and past students better and more efficient communication skills by understanding the art of storytelling.

The ability to communicate with others is more than just verbal. It requires organization of thoughts, proper presentation, understanding of speech cadence, hand gestures, posture, and the value of the pause. All these attributes go into the art of storytelling and effective communication. Learning these skills will also carry over to create more efficient writing skills, performance skills, build confidence and so much more..

In an age where face-to-face communication has seriously eroded, it is time to give your student the edge through Dan's unique approach.

For individual and group rates, please contact: Dan via phone (440) 376-6486 or email: dan@clevelandstoryteller.com.

Additional information about the Storyteller can be found on Dan's website www.clevelandstoryteller.com

All is available for both students and those who want to advance their careers and build their own story.

"It always occurred to me that if one could communicate effectively and persuasively, one could always make a good living."
